

The High Life in Mexico: Costa Palmas

Four Seasons Hotels and Resorts and real estate developer Irongate are working toward completion of a 1,000-acre luxury escape called Costa Palmas on Mexico's East Cape near Cabo San Lucas. The development, scheduled to open next year, comprises the Four Seasons Resort and Private Residences Los Cabos at Costa Palmas, a 250-slip deepwater marina, a beach and yacht club, a Four Seasons-operated Robert Trent Jones II golf club, 18 acres of farms and orchards, and a pristine 2-mile stretch of swimmable beach. The facility's location on the Sea of Cortez offers excellent snorkeling, diving, light tackle and sport fishing, windsurfing and kiteboarding. Positioned at the foot of the Sierra de la Laguna Mountains, Costa Palmas also offers land-based recreational opportunities including hiking, biking and horseback riding. costapalmas.com

In a secret cape, on the sandy edge of the Sea of Cortez, Costa Palmas is a welcoming embrace of blue.

